FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Felician Village membership program offers telephone check in system for seniors

MANITOWOC, Wis. (December 4, 2019) - Living alone has its challenges for seniors. Many Manitowoc County older adults living at home don't have family living nearby to check on them. Seniors living alone want reassurance that if something happens to them, they will be found quickly. Felician Village at Home, a new membership program for seniors living independently in Manitowoc County, has partnered with lamfine to offer a daily reassurance phone call.

lamfine was started in 2011 by two brothers, as a way of keeping up with their own active, living-alone, mother. Family and friends liked the idea so much that the business was formed in 2012. Now the premier player in the telephone reassurance market, lamfine continues to break ground with features, simplicity, and support.

Members can check in by simply calling, answering the phone, sending a text or logging in online. If a member misses a check in, their care circle of family, friends, neighbors, etc. can be notified by call, text or email that someone should get in touch. For people living alone, it's easy and discreet. For caregivers and family, it reduces anxiety while providing daily reassurance. This system is in operation 365 days a year and offers peace of mind regardless of day of the week, holidays or weather conditions.

Prospective members or families of prospective members may be eligible for two months free of a Felician Village at Home membership, now through December 23rd.
