

Is it time for assisted living?

Often times family does not know if or when it is time to relocate a loved one to another living option. Let us help make that decision easier for you with our NEW! Complimentary Consultation.

What is a Complimentary Consultation?

This pre-assessment will help determine if someone is safe in their own home or has enough social stimulation.

During the consultation, the assisted living manager will meet with the potential resident to:

- Evaluate how they move around in their current surroundings
- Discuss what assistance they are currently needing and how those needs are met
- Review their history and/or potential for falls
- Assess how their nutritional and personal care needs are met
- Identify any challenges related to medication administration
- Touch base on socialization - too often people have limited socialization because they no longer leave the home safely

Through the consultation process and information obtained, suggestions for appropriate living options will be given.
