FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Felician Village announces winner of 2018 Felician Award for Excellence in Volunteer Service

MANITOWOC, Wis. (May 1, 2018) - On Friday, April 27, Tim Lindloff, Volunteer Coordinator, Felician Village, named Barb Chadek as the 2018 recipient of the Felician Award for Excellence in Volunteer Service at Felician Village. The award was presented at the 2018 Volunteer Appreciation ceremony.

Chadek volunteers at the front reception desk at Felician Village. Her nominee wrote, "The receptionist that was to work the Christmas holiday weekend at the last minute could not do so, therefore, Barb pitched in working Christmas day and longer hours than normal too. Not long after that, Barb offered to increase her volunteer hours in January and February until we filled the vacant weekend receptionist position. I always say how very important it is to have a person at the front desk to greet people, give directions or just to talk with residents and answer questions. That is why someone like Barb makes all the difference!"

This award recognizes an individual whose volunteer actions have made a significant impact on the residents/operations of Felician Village. The recipient of this award exemplifies the core values of Felician Village by living out the healing ministry of Jesus and providing compassionate care that respects the dignity of each person served.
